

Curriculum Vitae Anders P. Ravn

Emeritus Professor, dr. techn., Department of Computer Science, Aalborg University.

Research Areas

Software Engineering, Software Components, Real-Time Programming, Software Fault Tolerance.

Education

1995 dr. techn. at Technical University of Denmark

1973 MSc (cand.scient.) from the University of Copenhagen, Denmark

Employment

2016 Emeritus

2005–2016 Professor of Computing, Dept. Comp. Sc., Aalborg University (AAU)

2005-1999 Professor (research) at AAU

1999-1984 Associate Professor, later Reader at Dept. Computer Sc., DTU

Also 1994 Visiting Professor, Kiel, Germany;

1989-90 Visiting Researcher, Computing Lab., Oxford University, UK

1976-1984 Assistant Professor, later Associate at Dept. Comp. Sc., Univ. Copenhagen.

Also 1982-83 Visiting Scientist, IBM T.J. Watson Research Lab, New York, USA.

1972-1976 Systems programmer at A/S Regnecentralen, Copenhagen.

Supervision

Current 1 PhD student, Past 15 completed PhD studies

Academic Services

Joint organizing chair for two international conferences and program chair for eight. Former member of the steering committee for the conference series Hybrid Systems: Computation and Control and former member of the steering committee for Euromicro Real-Time Systems Conference. Each year active on the programme committee of several conferences, acts as reviewer for the EU FP 7, Norwegian Research Council, Finnish Academy, and other research councils, journals and conferences.

Member ACM and Life Member IEEE Computer Society; Emeritus member of IFIP Working Group 2.2 on Foundations of Programming Concepts.

Publications

Has in total (co)authored three books, edited seven conference proceedings, and published 81 journal articles and book chapters, and 56 peer reviewed conference papers.

Honours

Knight of the Order of Dannebrog.